

Where to begin your Internet search

EXCELLENT ONLINE DATA BASES

World Book Online: www.worldbookonline.com

Username: vusdvlc

Password: library

<http://tularecountylibrary.org> if you have a Tulare county library card; at the public library site click on the Online Resources link

The four excellent online data bases are:

InfoTrac, Opposing View Points, Health and Wellness Resource Center, and Newsbank, choose Access From Home

<http://kingscountylibrary.org> if you have a Kings county library card; at the public library web site look at Resources and then choose from Useful web site links, or Access our subscription databases then choose Infotrac or Newsbank.

<http://cos.edu/library/electronic.htm>

SIRS (Social Issues Resources Series)

User name: CA0089H Password: 27897

<http://www.ipl.org/div/teen/aplus/> This site is the Internet Public Library with a link to, How to Write an A+ Research Paper.

Other search engines besides Google are:

<http://dogpile.com>

<http://www.webcrawler.com/>

<http://www.altavista.com>

<http://infoplease.com>

<http://alltheweb.com>

Tip: Use Alt Tab to go back and forth between windows when you need to copy and paste addresses for bibliography.